Create a txt project

> txt project is a representation of any project, which contains the source code.

create in your home folder, or any place you normally use for your projects, a map

- tutorial

In this map create a submap for the sources

- src